FALL MEETING
The Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colorado
September 23-25, 2011

In Joint Sponsorship with the Radiological Society of North America

Accreditation and Designation Statement
This live activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of the Radiological Society of North America (RSNA) and the Society of Chairs of Academic Radiology Departments (SCARD). The RSNA is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The RSNA designates this live activity for a maximum of 14.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Evaluation
In compliance with the ACCME requirements, you must record your attendance and evaluate the sessions you attend in order to receive AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™.

The evaluation instrument is supplied to you at registration in a booklet format. The session evaluations appear in chronologic order. Please write your name, address, and degree(s) in the space provided, and complete the evaluations for the sessions you attend. At the end of the meeting, submit the entire evaluation booklet to the SCARD registration desk. A record of the CME credit earned at this meeting will be mailed to you shortly after the program.

Content Codes
To better help the participants of this CME activity organize their CME records, two-letter content codes will be indicated throughout the program and in the evaluation booklet. The key to the codes follows:

CA Cardiac Radiology
HP Health Policy
MA Management
QA Quality Assurance/Quality Improvement (including radiation and general safety issues)
PR Professionalism (including Ethics)
Target Audience
Radiologists holding appointments in academic medical centers and engaged in research and teaching as well as clinical practice.

Learning Objectives
At the conclusion of this live activity, participants will be able to:

- Demonstrate understanding of the organizational and financial challenges that faces academic radiology.
- Describe how healthcare reform might impact academic radiology.
- Assess and apply new rules and regulations regarding ethical, professional, and institutional behavior.
- Demonstrate understanding of regulations regarding residency and fellowship training.
- Identify and discuss managerial problems and solutions.
- Demonstrate understanding of issues in cardiac and interventional radiology
- Describe how to manage difficult faculty members.
- Describe various academic radiology compensation plans.
- Demonstrate understanding of internal and external philanthropy.
- Explain how to build and maintain radiology research programs.

Disclosure Statements
The Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) requires that the Radiological Society of North America (RSNA), as an accredited provider of continuing medical education, obtain signed disclosure statements from meeting faculty, including committee members, program planners, and presenters. The intent of this policy is not to prevent an individual with a financial relationship from participating; however, in accordance with ACCME standards, the RSNA has developed policies and procedures to manage identified conflicts of interest.

The ACCME further requires that the RSNA provide disclosure information to all attendees prior to the educational activity. Faculty who have or have had an affiliation or financial relationship with any commercial interest (within the previous 12 months or at the time the research was conducted) are noted with a star (*) after their name in the program book. Financial disclosure statements for these individuals are reported after each individual’s name in the disclosure index. All other individuals have indicated they have nothing to disclose.

This icon indicates discussion of uses not approved by the FDA. The RSNA and SCARD recognize that at scientific meetings faculty may discuss the application of some devices, materials, or pharmaceuticals that are not FDA approved. In keeping with the highest standards of professional integrity and ethics, RSNA and SCARD require that faculty fully disclose to their audience that there will be discussion of the unlabeled use of a commercial product, device, or pharmaceutical that has not been approved for such purpose by the FDA.

September 23-25, 2011

Program Schedule (current as of September 7, 2011)

Friday, September 23, 2011

7:00 AM – 7:55 AM  Continental Breakfast
Location: Rocky Mountain A

General Session: Clinical Issues
Location: Rocky Mountain CD

7:55 AM – 8:00 AM  Welcome and Announcements
Moderator:  Steven E. Seltzer, MD

8:00 AM – 9:00 AM  AAARAD/Radiologist Salary/Productivity Survey
Presentation
AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™:  1.00

Faculty:  Sherry C. Elliott, MBA, FACMPE

Learning Objectives:

1. Become aware of clinical faculty salaries and productivity measurements by subspecialty in academic radiology practices.

2. Understand the compensation expectations of faculty with regards to call pay, extra duty pay, professional expense allowances.

3. Understand the financial impact of compensation as it relates to productivity.

This presentation will display survey data of clinical salaries and productivity data by subspecialty, comparing them to prior years as well as to private practice.

Benchmarking Clinical and Academic Productivity: A Survey and Experience at Two Institutions
AMA PRA Category 1 CreditTM: 0.75
Survey of Academic Institutions
Faculty: Laurie L. Fajardo, MD, MBA*

Measuring Clinical Productivity at Henry Ford
Faculty: Manuel L. Brown, MD*

Measuring Academic Productivity at the University of Cincinnati
Faculty: Joannette Collins, MD, MEd, FCCP*

Learning Objectives:

1. Demonstrate understanding of organizational metrics for assessing clinical and academic productivity and differences in measuring and applying these metrics among academic radiology departments.

2. Assess methodologies and principles for establishing metrics to assess clinical and academic productivity among academic radiology departments.

3. Describe how metrics are utilized within academic radiology faculty compensation plans.

September 23-25, 2011

Friday, September 23, 2011 (continued)

10:20 AM – 10:30 AM  Organizational Opportunities for Radiology: AHA, NASCI, ACR, RSNA, ARRS

Faculty:
Arthur E. Stillman, MD, PhD

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants will be able to:

1. Explain the importance of Chairs encouraging their faculty to actively participate in national professional societies.

2. Differentiate the American Heart Association as being a patient advocacy organization.

3. List benefits for faculty participation in the American Heart Association.

10:30 AM – 10:45 AM  Open Discussion

10:45 AM – 11:30 AM  Interventional Radiology: Current Issues and Controversies  MA
AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™: 0.75

Faculty:
Scott C. Goodwin, MD
Matthew A. Mauro, MD
James B. Spies, MD*

Learning Objectives:

1. Identify the training requirements for modern day competitive IRs.

2. Examine the practice differences between IR and diagnostic radiology.

3. List the infrastructure needs to sustain a patient focused IR Practice.

4. Examine methods of optimizing the integration of an IR practice into your department.

5. Debate the need to maintain IR within Radiology.

FALL MEETING

The Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colorado
September 23-25, 2011

Sunday, September 25, 2011 (continued)

10:30 AM – 11:30 AM  ABR Update
AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™: 1.00

Faculty:  Gary J. Becker, MD
          James P. Borgstede, MD
          Jennifer Bosma, PhD
          N. Reed Dunnick, MD
          Duane G. Mezwa, MD

Learning Objectives:

1. ABR Core, Certifying, and MOC Examinations: The learner will understand and be able to defend the rationale for ABR’s transition to a new testing paradigm for all of its image-rich examinations.

2. The learner will be updated on the progress of this transition, anticipated dates of exam administration, exam security policy, and ABR’s plans for an online practice Core Examination for candidates by the end of 2012.

3. The learner will be able, together with his/her residency training program director, to apply this knowledge about the new examinations to make any necessary adjustments to their program.

4. The learner will be updated on the growth in MOC and the forces outside of ABR that are shaping MOC requirements, most notably the ABMS and other stakeholder groups, including credentialists, payers, practice groups, accrediting bodies, healthcare institutions, and others.

5. The learner will be able to defend the role of MOC in professional self-regulation and its relevance to the life of an ABR diplomat, by listing and describing at least five ways in which ABR and ABMS are working to align MOC with existing requirements, incentives, and other aspects of practice life, so as to eliminate redundancy, save time and effort, and enhance value.

6. The learner will be motivated to enroll in/continue participating in MOC.

★ = Author disclosure appears in disclosure index.
7. The learner will understand that the future of professional self-regulation and the specialty board movement will include new kinds of assessment and public reporting. Boards, including the ABR, will not only assess cognitive knowledge on their initial certifying and MOC exams, but also practice performance and improvement in Part IV of MOC. Thus, they will have new understanding and appreciation for ABR’s collaboration with other organizations on measures development.

SCARD
Society of Chairs of Academic Radiology Departments
Mission

The objectives of the Society of Chairs of Academic Radiology Departments are:

1. To advance the art and science of radiology by promoting medical education, research, and patient care;

2. To develop methods of undergraduate and graduate teaching in radiology; and

3. To provide a forum for discussion of problems and mutual interests among radiology department chairs.

4. To develop and advance policies and initiatives essential for the success of the clinical, research and educational missions of radiology and imaging sciences.
